Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 17 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A bright and sunny weekend. Frosts overnight.

Today:
A frosty start in rural areas, quickly warming up with plenty of sunshine. Staying bright but some patchy high cloud possible across the region later. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
Any remaining cloud will gradually fade away during the evening, leaving clear skies for much of the night. Feeling cold with a sharp frost forming across rural areas. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Sunday:
Another fine and dry day with widespread sunshine. Feeling warm for most with light winds, however cloudy conditions developing in the far south east into the evening. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Continuing with cold, frosty mornings inland but milder near the coasts under patchy cloud. This cloud will gradually melt away during the morning to leave fine, sunny days once again.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.